Provisions Of Law Enforcement Bill Explained By Judge Blair

Editor Portsmouth Daily Times.
Dear Editor: Will you kindly give space to this letter so that we may answer the various inquiries reaching us in reference to House Bill No. 620.

First: Is House Bill No. 620, known as "For Law Enforcement," which is submitted to the Legislature of the state for their approval or disapproval at the coming November election, the same as the Cralle Act submitted to them last fall?

A. It is not. Many of the features of the Cralle Act to which many voters took exception are omitted from the present measure - which are the following:

a. The election, appointment or choosing of any officers or persons to enforce it.

b. The requirement that druggists, physicians, common carriers and other persons handling intoxicating liquors shall first obtain a permit under the laws of the state of Ohio.

c. The requirement that druggists, common carriers, and other persons handling intoxicating liquors shall keep a record thereof and make a report of the same to designated officers of the state.

d. Special provisions for search and seizure of intoxicating liquors, manufactured, sold or possessed, labeled, transported or stored, as provided in the Cralle Act.

None of the above provisions of the Cralle Act are contained in the present Act.

For the information of your readers and the public generally, the present Act contains the following provisions:

Section 1 of the Act provides that it shall be deemed to be an exercise of power granted by Article XV, Section 9, of the Constitution of Ohio.

Section 2 of the Act defines the word "liquor" and the phrase "intoxicating liquor" the same as is defined in Section 1 of the Volstead or "National Prohibition Act," and further provides that whoever knowingly sells, furnishes or gives away Wood Alcohol or any preparation or compound containing Wood Alcohol, to be used for beverage purposes, and death results therefrom shall be guilty of murder.

Section 3 of the Act forbids the same Acts as is forbidden under Section 3 of the Volstead or "National Prohibition Act."

Section 4 of the Act makes it unlawful to have any liquor or property designed for the manufacture of liquor intended for use in violation of the Law and provides that the provisions of sections 13182 to 13188 inclusive, of the General Code of Ohio is applicable in obtaining such liquor by the officers of the state.

Section 5 provides the following penalties for the violation of the Act to-wit:

First offense: A fine of not less than One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) and not more than One Thousand Dollars ($1000.00).

Second offense: A fine not less than Three Hundred Dollars ($300.00) and not more than Two Thousand Dollars ($2000.00).

Third or Subsequent offense: A fine of not less than Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) and not more than Two Thousand Dollars ($2000.00) and imprisonment in the State Penitentiary for not less than one year and not more than five years; and further provides that the Act shall not apply to the manufacturing or selling of vinegar or the manufacturing of non-intoxicating elixirs and fruit juices for use in the home. But prohibits the selling of elixir or fruit juices after they become intoxicating except by a permit from the federal government.

Section 6 gives justices of the peace, mayors, municipal or police judges, probate and common pleas court judges jurisdiction to try violations of the Act within the county in which they hold office.

Section 7 provides that money arising from fines paid under the Act shall be paid, one-half into the state treasury in the general fund and one half to the treasury of the township, municipality or county where the prosecution is held, according as to whether the officer hearing the case is a township, municipal or county officer.

Section 8 provides that any party being tried under the provision of this Act may prosecute Error to the higher courts.

Section 9 repeals the provisions of the License Law of the State and all Acts inconsistent with the Act.

Section 10 provides that the Act shall go into effect after its passage.

It will thus be seen that the features of the Cralle Act to which various objections were made have been entirely eliminated from the present Act. Is there a necessity for such enactment by the state? There is now no law in the State of Ohio whereby any person can be arrested, prosecuted or punished for the manufacture of intoxicating liquors or the sale of intoxicating liquors outside of a regulated place of business. If a place of business is kept where such liquors are sold the keeper may be prosecuted but he may sell the same by what is known as the bootlegging route time of this court to the method with impunity, so far as the violation of civil as well as other criminal law is concerned.

Section 3 of the Act forbids the same Acts as is forbidden under Section 3 of the Volstead or "National Prohibition Act."

Section 4 of the Act makes it unlawful to have any liquor or property designed for the manufacture of liquor intended for use in violation of the Law and provides that the provisions of sections 13182 to 13188 inclusive, of the General Code of Ohio is applicable in obtaining such liquor by the officers of the state.

Section 9 repeals the provisions of the License Law of the State and all Acts inconsistent with the Act.

DANIELS NAMES BOARD FOR HAITI PROBE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Secretary Daniels announced today that he had appointed a board of inquiry to make a thorough investigation of all wrongs alleged to have been committed by United States marines in Haiti, and particularly the reference to "indiscriminate killings," in Brigadier-General George Barnett's confidential letter of a year ago to Col. John H. Russell, marine commander in Haiti.

Washington for San Francisco yesterday, has been recalled to Washington, Secretary Daniels said, to appear before the board as a witness.

The board, which is composed of Rear Admirals Henry T. Mayo and J. H. Oliver, and Brigadier-General J. H. Pennington, of the marine corps, has been directed to "dig every bit of evidence" Mr. Daniels said to the end that "any man in American uniform guilty of wrong doing shall be brought to trial and punished."

General Barnett, former commander of the marine corps, who left Haiti in 1917, is now in San Francisco.

"HEARSE" SALOON FOUND BY OFFICIALS IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The first arrest in connection with the hunt for New York's alleged liquor "cub" came today, when two men were taken into custody on an automobile carrying liquor on a ferryboat to New Jersey.

Six tightly nailed wooden boxes, each containing a five-gallon jug of "cub" liquor, were found in the car. Ralph Sando and Charles Hacco, when arrested, are said by federal agents to have confessed they were being paid for transporting the liquor, and for this particular "job" $20.

Prohibition enforcement agents asserted they had been hoping of a connection with the liquor "cub" but had had difficulty in tracing it. Records were said to have shown that the hearse had been in use as a liquor and alcohol transport for a considerable period.

Frank L. Boyd, chief enforcement agent here, said tonight, albeit with key fingers in New York were now getting colored water in many cases. Colored alcohol is put in one bottle of a case labeled whiskey, and colored water in the other bottles. Then after sampling the alcohol the entire case is readily sold, he said, only for the buyer to find the deceit when the second bottle is opened.

after Harding touched many of the issues of the campaign and declared it was the Republican party which now offered "a constructive and progressive program" to readjust American affairs. Democratic "neglect, inefficiency, waste and wild extravagance" he denounced in a vigorous assault on the administration by which he declared the nation was "being led toward another crisis of stagnancy and unemployment." He predicted that the people would not permit any one to "write a third chapter of the Democratic Book of Destruction."

The mastery of JACK LONDON'S story-telling, his spirit of adventure in the Earth's far places, & the fascinating characters, that brought him millions of readers, are heightened in this screen version of one of his most noteworthy tales of the Sea.

THE MUTINY OF THE ELSINORE

with an ALL-STAR CAST
Presented by C. E. SHURTLEFF, Inc.
Adapted by A. S. LEVINO
Directed by EDWARD SLOMAN

Last Presentation in Southern Ohio At The Eastland Theatre For Tonight, Metro Presents Jack London's Thrilling, True Story, "The Mutiny of the Elsinore." With an All Star Cast Headed by Mitchell Lewis—If You Have Any Red Blood at All You Must See This Picture—It's Jack London's Most Stirring Story of the Sea—Also Orchestra and Other Features.

Jack London's stirring story of the sea, "The Mutiny of the Elsinore," will be the feature attraction at the Eastland Theatre closing tonight.

Jack London was a weaver of romances that thrilled the world, and in none of his works has he told a more fascinating story than in "The Mutiny of the Elsinore," vividly translated to the screen with an all-star cast. It is an elemental drama of strong men in conflict, through which runs a tender love story that is crowned by heroic self-sacrifice. Frankly it is a narrative of the ocean stretches, and its characters have the strength of the sea. Perhaps that among them is the rugged, ready John Pike, first mate of the good ship Elsinore—gentle and considerate towards women, but ruling men by an iron hand when they seek to overstep his authority. Setting out on a voyage around the Horn with a motley crew composed of the rift raft of the world's drifters and gamblers, Jack London's story is a narrative of the ocean stretches, and its characters have the strength of the sea. Harding Will Carry New York ally that makes him an outstanding candidate. There are certain Republican leaders who would not lose much sleep or bemoan their fate if he lost to Al Smith, whose maneuvers with the Republican legislature have stamped him as a flexible person who recognizes that bipartisan transactions are not only satisfactory to himself but to the two parties concerned.

Fifth, Tammany is suspected of being ready to trade democratic votes that ordinarily would go for Walker for the Senate and votes on the Republican side that might possibly be cast for Miller, the gubernatorial candidate. Thus Al Smith might be elected governor again while Senator Wadsworth might be returned to the Senate. The situation is complicated by the fact that State Senator Thompson, who was unsuccessful in the Republican primaries, has stayed in the gubernatorial race and has the endorsement of the Anti-Saloon League. Moreover, New York state, which is still so old-fashioned as to furnish a religious issue in almost every campaign, is experiencing an undercurrent of Catholic-Protestant prejudice which seems to make Thompson the beneficiary of the one and both Miller and Al Smith the other. However, as usual, this sort of thing balances itself and the election will be decided on other issues entirely. Al Smith is popular and in a normal year would carry the state by 200,000 majority. Judge Miller has a splendid chance of slipping in by a narrow margin.

Sixth, the national situation is almost hopeless for the Democrats. The Cox campaign has not turned enough votes to cause worry to the Republicans. The speech of Senator Harding at Des Moines on the League issue in which he said he sought "rejection" not "interpretation" has driven out of the Republican party a number of intellectuals who cannot follow the gyrations of political expediency in any party or individual.

The defections are few but notable. The current of Republicanism is so strong that even Senator Wadsworth's opposition to woman suffrage will not cost him his seat. The weakness of the candidate the Democrats put up and the apathy of Tammany will help Wadsworth effect the loss of women's votes. What chance have even the women against the bipartisan understanding which for years has controlled elections in New York state? In the general upheaval a Bill Barnes on the one hand and a Charlie Murphy on the other can still run things. And Mr. Murphy is far more interested in the election of Al Smith for governor than he is in the success of the League nominees for the presidency of the United States Senate, wherefore the reader may put New York down in the Republican column, and at the same time make up his mind that the verdict will reflect no affirmation or negation of the present League of Nations or any other kind of a league, but a thoroughly local situation plus reverence for purely domestic affairs as managed at Washington.

of education, Governor Cox said: "At present the federal bureau of education is buried with a varied assortment of national business in the department of the interior. My opponent has spoken recently for a new department of public welfare under which to group certain social welfare activities. "While I am in hearty accord with the idea of house cleaning our government departments and coming out of the human from the technical problems, I feel we should look forward to giving education and health equal consideration with labor, instead of lumping all social questions into another grab bag, ill defined department."

In the last Congress, Governor Cox charged, "in baby's ink" providing for maternity and infant care "waited in vain while reactionary leaders spent their time 'scrapping' the League of Nations."

"I am in favor of going into the league," he said, "not alone to keep our children from the terrible experience of war, but to enrich their lives by turning our national resources from battleships and armaments into school houses, play grounds, work for health, child hygiene and child happiness."

"Not to have given the right of suffrage to the women of America in this year when the greatest of all issues is before the people would have been a little short of a calamity. There was the greater suffering in war and there the greater understanding of the lesson of the war. If we are to be deprived of world peace as a result of the action of our own country under leadership of a partisan conspiracy, it is woman's right that she be heard. If the women of America may express their will I have no doubt of the result."

"CRANK" REPUDIATES MURDER CONFESSION

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—August Pasquale, known as "The Crank" today repudiated his confession that he kidnapped Blakely Goughlin, another man accidentally and threw his body in the Schuylkill river, according to Montgomery county authorities. He is alleged to have said the confession was a "lot of bunk," and that he made it "just to give the state police something to work on."

Pasquale's latest statement was made to one of his guards at the New prison jail. According to this guard, he would add nothing to the assertion that the confession was untrue.

Adding Nothing to Repudiation

Despite his repudiation, the police believe Pasquale's confession, which was made to Major Lynn C. Adams, head of the state police, last Friday, and again yesterday in the form of a signed statement, is true. It was the only one of his many statements and confessions, they declared, that has in any way been substantiated. They called attention to the finding of a piece of steel rail with a string attached at the spot in the river where the prisoner said he threw the body's body as tearing out that part of his confession.

MUCH ENTHUSIASM AROUSED OVER RED CROSS PAGEANT

If anything were needed to increase the interest of the local promoters of the "Red Cross Pageant," which will be given here during 1921, it was furnished yesterday afternoon by the inspiring presence of Mrs. Ruth Monney, wife of the late division of the Red Cross, who met with the marchers and Mrs. S. B. Thompson, local director of the pageant. Mrs. Monney, who wrote the pageant, and yesterday afternoon she went through it, making suggestions for the local women, and assisting in planning of the various principals.

Mrs. Monney, who has achieved a national fame as a mistress of pageants, found the local committee already much enthused over the pageant, and at present left the meeting feeling sure that it could not help but be one of the very finest ever offered to the Portsmouth public.

A great effort is to be made to have Mrs. Monney return to take an important part in the pageant, as it is felt that with her in the past the appeal of the performance will be much stronger. During the next few days the marchers and Mrs. Monney will be busy arranging for the various groups which will participate in the pageant and planning other details of the big affair.

In the very near future a mass meeting of all the principals will be held, and the cast will be made public.

Court House

Robinson Charges Cruelty

John H. Robinson, Gallia and Clay streets, alleges cruelty in his suit for divorce from Stella Robinson instituted in common pleas court Saturday.

He says they were married August 1, 1919, and complains through Attorney Mark Crawford that the defendant has a violent temper and declared she has nagged with him repeatedly without cause, buried missiles at him and frequently accused him falsely of improper relations with other women. Furthermore, he claims she was extremely jealous of him.

In addition to a divorce the plaintiff asks for the custody of his two minor sons by a former marriage. The defendant is now living with her father, Thomas Hodge, in Earlstown.

Wife Granted Divorce

Ola Hasham, shoe worker, living at 1125 Tenth street, was granted a decree by Judge Thomas in common pleas court Saturday, divorcing her from William D. Hasham.

The plaintiff told the court that Hasham, prior to their separation several years ago, frequently came home drunk and beat her. Besides, she said, he failed to support her at any time during their married life and finally left some five years ago. She was represented by Attorney T. C. Deary.

Moerland Moves Office

Attorney Frank T. Moerland, who was recently appointed law librarian for the Scioto county Bar Association, has moved his office from the room he had shared for several years with J. P. Strayer in the Masonic Temple to the law library room on the second floor of the same building.

Picklesimer Seeks Divorce

Alleging neglect and declaring that she cannot maintain for him but forest the company of other men, Forest Picklesimer, Lena Farmer, is seeking a divorce from Martin Picklesimer in an action filed in Common Pleas court Saturday through Attorney George W. Sheppard.

He says they were married Nov. 12, 1910, and he complains the misconduct of the defendant is without just cause or excuse.

Mr. Bays Granted Divorce

Rebecca J. Bays, 107 Bond street, was granted a divorce from William Bays, West Side farmer, by Judge Thomas in common pleas court Saturday on the grounds of neglect and desertion.

They were married Dec. 20, 1909, and the wife told the court that Bays failed to support her and their children and that he beat her on more than one occasion. He neglected the plaintiff of being too friendly with other men, but failed to substantiate the charge.

EUROPE IS TRAVEL-MAD

CENTRAL Europe—chiefly Austria, Hungary, Rumania and adjacent countries—are "travel mad." In spite of government limitations, journeys are made on slight pretexts. Whole families go wandering from town to town. To the representative of a New York paper, Queen Marie of Rumania voiced the feelings of thousands of her subjects when she said, "How I envy you, travelers. Think of the glorious freedom of going somewhere far away." Admiral Horthy, Hungary's regent, remarked that he wakes up at night now thinking of the sea and in his dreams hears the sound of the ocean. "I have sailed the world around and now I can't even get a glimpse of blue water," he told an interviewer.

The general restlessness of the populations of Central Europe is a logical aftermath of the hysteria of war. This part of the world lived through the tense years of conflict, with its accompaniment of terror and privation, and now feels a natural reaction against war, in fact, is the way in which it develops the appetite for highly-spiced sensation and atrocities or destroys the quieter but sounder pleasure which people normally take in the commonplace round of work and play. The business of living sensibly and serenely is motonous to war-torn nerves. Hence the delight in feverish amusements, in the extremes of getting and spending, in wafon waste, in gross extravagance.

A good deal of what is the matter with the world in general today is due to the swing of the pendulum from the excitement of war to the wholesome monotony of peace. Central Europe, which got more of war than most of us, simply has an aggravated ease which is correspondingly long in mending. But if Central Europe and the rest of us are going to get anywhere, the hysteria which expresses itself in a lust for travel or for any other form of useless excitement must be cured. And the cure lies within ourselves.

OPERAS FROM THE SCREEN

ANNOUNCEMENT of the directors of the Opera Comique of Paris that they have had a libretto prepared from an American film play opens the way for improvement in the intelligibility of grand operas. This is the first time that a screen drama has been transformed into an opera, but there is every reason for believing that the experiment will be a success and will be repeated.

The photo play and the opera are alike in the respect that understanding of the story depends on action rather than words. It is true that the music drama purports to develop the plot through the instrumentality of language, but since most of the grand operas presented in this country are in foreign tongues they are unintelligible to all but a few and the audiences are compelled, if they wish to understand the plot, to have recourse to a translation of the libretto, or to interpret the acting. This is often necessary in the case of operas given in English, since enunciation becomes indistinct in singing. But the producers of operas have not heretofore presented works of which understanding could be gained wholly through the acting. This will be possible in operas taken from the "movies."

SUGAR PROFITEERS LOSE

THERE will be little public sympathy for the speculators who, according to a Boston sugar man, have lost fortunes as a consequence of manipulations of the market. A shrinkage of $250,000,000 in the value of stocks, as reported, will not bear heavily, we may be sure, on any legitimate holders of sugar.

All sympathy for distresses growing out of the situation of the last few years will be reserved for general consumers, the people who have been mulcted not only, but frequently have been unable to supply their needs at any price.

The Boston man who has been enlightening the attorney general of Massachusetts, so far as his testimony is available, gives few details of the manipulations, but a fair inference from the news report is that unconscionable hoarding of sugar by some interests is the explanation not only of the high prices that have been exacted but of the severity of the commodity at groceries.

We believe that there was not available at all times all the sugar that the American people required, but it appears that the shortage was far less than was represented. Otherwise there could not have been the enormous losses asserted to have been suffered by holders of the commodity when the price began to slump. Popular opinion will hold to this until there is evidence to the contrary.

With the cost of living going down, the hold-up men may not think it necessary to rob so many banks.

On Behalf of Innkeepers

By Frederic J. Huskin

NEW YORK CITY, Oct. 16.—With three of New York's great hotels—the Knickerbocker, the Manhattan, and the Holland House—going out of business, there is a general impression abroad that some mysterious force, usually assumed to be prohibition, is taking the profit and joy out of the innkeeper's life.

As a matter of fact, this is not exactly true, according to the men who run hotels in New York. The information here set forth was obtained largely from these men, and is to be taken as an expression of their point of view and experience.

They say that the hotel business has by no means become either unprofitable or unattractive in New York, and the great business of entertaining the army of transients who go to the city every day for pleasure and business is not in a way, quite another reason accounts for the demise of the several famous hoteliers mentioned. The prominent downtown centers upon which they are located are worth more for office space than for hotel space. The value of the ground rent in downtown New York has increased several hundred percent in the past few years. An office building must be in the heart of the business district, but a hotel can serve its purpose some where else, nearly, if not quite, as well.

Experienced managers could have been found to take over the Knickerbocker and run it on a seven-teen-year lease, similar to the one under which it has been running, but they could not afford to pay for that lease as much as the space is worth in office buildings. For this reason, the Knickerbocker had to go, and the same is true of the two others. Also the ground floor of the Waldorf is to be converted to business purposes and the rooms added to the Claridge, for similar economic reasons.

Hotels Move Upstairs

What all this portends primarily is another migration of the famous New York hotel section a little farther uptown. The hotel that used to be on Twenty-third street is about Thirty-fourth. Now it begins at the Pennsylvania depot, which will of course always draw hotels about itself, and runs to Fifty-seventh street and beyond. The center of it is around Forty-second, but it will not long stay there.

Incidentally, all this may mean that the shoring of hotel rooms, which was so serious during the war, will be continued at times for years. Although New York is nothing like as crowded as it was in the days when thousands of soldiers and others connected with war-time activities had to come here, it is still far from easy to get a room. There was a touch of thinness in the hotel business during the summer, but it is picking up at a great rate as the days grow cool and the winter activity gathers momentum. Meanwhile, nothing adequate is being built to replace the big hotels which have gone out of business, much less to take care of the normal growth of the army of transients. The new Ambassador Hotel at Forty-ninth street and Park Avenue, will have about seven hundred rooms, and the Embassy at Seventieth street about four hundred. But this is only eleven hundred rooms in prospect to replace about fifteen hundred which have been taken out of commission in the three hotels that are being transformed into business blocks.

The reason for this decline in hotel space is that hotel men are afraid of a slump. Business is still good, they admit, and they do not claim, like many other businesses, to be operating at a very small profit or none at all for the good of the public. But they do not feel any confidence that the good times will last. Hence capital is a bit slow about going into hotels.

Hotel Rates Held Down

While many hotels have been heard of recent years about the exorbitant prices of hotel accommodations in New York, and the hotel men hasten to point out that these have not risen nearly as much as other things, the cost of room in New York is 75 percent higher than it was before the war, but the cost of everything else is a hundred percent or more higher. The reason the hotel men have been able to make money at this comparatively reasonable advance in prices is that the profit in running a hotel in normal times is figured on a basis of houses about half empty. Ordinarily a hotel is never quite full. The man who holds the lease is paying rent on a number of rooms from which he is deriving no income. This enormous outlay of loss was removed during the war by the fact that every room was full all the time, and additional income was derived from rows of cots installed in the ball room and other such like expedients.

In the same way, the cost of eating in hotels has not risen as much as the general cost of living, according to hotel men. They solemnly affirm that hotel dining rooms are almost never run at a profit. It is not the cost of food which makes hotel dining expensive, but the overhead represented by waiters, decorations, napery and the like. They say that when you go into a first class hotel and sit down to the table your presence there costs the management fifty cents, before it begins to feed you. The waiter who stands obsequiously by the large and voluptuous napkin which you spread on your knees the array of silver which you contemplate with hesitance or delight, the music which seeks to cheer you, all cost money. Now if you order only a twenty-five cent meal, it may be that the management actually loses money on you.

That the major expense goes for other things than food is shown by the experience of various western hotels, which have established cafeterias. In these they serve the same food out of the same kitchens for just about half what it costs in the dining rooms. One first class New York hotel has now established such a cafeteria, and it may be assumed that, the precedent having been established, others will follow suit.

Suburban Hotels

A dining pioneer in the movement of the hotel away from the center of the city is the manager who has recently established a hotel at New Kings on Long Island. And this experiment in suburban hotel keeping is said to be a great success. As for the factor of prohibition, it is said that they do not know yet how it will affect the hotel business. The wave of hotel prosperity brought by the war masked the effect of the bar-closing. Very likely the effect of prohibition will be to increase the cost of hotel rooms, for there is no denying that the bars were sources of large profit. Hundreds of thousands a year rolled in through the doors of a hotel like the famous King Cole in the late lamented Knickerbocker.

The hotel men do not claim to be friends of prohibition, but they do claim to have upheld the law as a matter of expediency, and this is borne out by the experience of the thirty-five yearfar. There are a thousand places in New York where you can get a drink, but none of them is in a first-class hotel. The man with a seventeen-year lease on a property worth perhaps ten million dollars, cannot afford to risk having his place closed for the sake of a little illicit liquor business. So the well known tier dwellers in little corner saloons, whose owners do not risk much, and these places get the big liquor profit, while the hotel is beyond reproach, not perhaps from choice, but from necessity.

Q. I have an Army Colt 45 Automatic that I found about a year ago on the seat of my automobile. Am I violating the law by keeping it? If so what shall I do with it? J. J. B.

A. The War Department says that if you keep an army revolver in your home, you could be accused of possessing government property without any government license for some and the offense might lead you to imprisonment in the state prison. It is suggested that you take the revolver to your nearest Army Ordnance office, where you will be given a receipt and the gun will be returned to you. You will avoid any penalty in case you were found with it in your possession.

Q. What should be served with a salad? F. V.

A. Cheese, straws, crisp crackers, small sandwiches or nut bread, may be served with meat and vegetable salad, while sponge cake or angel food cake with fruit salad may be substituted with a fruit salad.

Q. What can be done with the skinnings from sugar cane syrup? F. B. T.

A. Some syrup makers allow the skinnings to settle for 24 hours, drawing off the clear juice and boiling it over with fresh juice. Care must be taken that the receptacles are thoroughly clean so that skinnings will not sour rapidly. Some farmers feed all skinnings while fresh to hogs. If a side is being filled while boiling syrup, a good utilization of the skinnings might be to work them in with the sugar water.

Q. Please suggest a novel cake for a birthday party. T. M.

A. Prepare any standard cake mixture and bake in small round pans. Frost with orange icing, and when hardened, outline each cake with a toothpick. Indicate the teeth with little white candies known as "Humbugs" or "Jelly Beans."

Q. What fraction of a horsepower is a man power? W. E. H.

A. A muscular man usually develops one tenth of a horsepower, but he cannot expend this amount of energy continuously.

New-York - Day - By - Day

By O. G. MINTIRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—It began to look like a bad winter for stage folk. For companies rehearsing for out of town productions were disbanded during the last two weeks. The managers cannot stand the strain of the increased railroad fares. Very few road companies are to go on tour and therefore are returning to New York shortly.

Complained with this is the fact that very few new productions are being planned. The shows that have proved money-makers are to remain on the boards in the near future. The actor is already beginning to feel the pinch of retrenchment.

It is even whispered that many first class houses will be dark throughout the season as there will not be enough productions to fill them. Managers send out auditions, mimeographed plans for the dramatic offerings early in the season that are not going to be fulfilled.

"It looks like a tough season," said one actor on the Fifth Avenue theatre. "What with no work and a chance that one night run into McGray any day." But it is useless to worry about the business as David Belasco calls them "the children of the theatre." Incidentally Mr. Belasco is in his fifth.

WHO'S WHO In The Days News

SENATOR SELDEN SPENCER
 Friends of Senator Selden P. Spencer of Missouri, who has a dispute with President Wilson over the interpretation of the latter's speech at the plenary peace conference in Paris on May 13, 1919, maintain that the transcript of the president's remarks, made public at the White House a few days ago, constitutes full justification for the Missouri senator's declaration that the president of the United States had promised to defend their boundary lines if invaded.

Friends of President Wilson assert the publication of the text proves Senator Spencer to have been mistaken.

Spencer quoted Wilson as having said:

"You must not forget that it is force that is the final guaranty of peace of the world. If the world is again troubled the United States will send to this side of the ocean their army and their fleet."

What President Wilson really did say was that Romania, Serbia and other small powers would expect the U. S. to send its armies and its navies to Europe to enforce any settlements as to boundary lines, etc., that might be made. And he added: "In these circumstances it is unreasonable that the United States should insist upon being satisfied that the settlements are correct."

Senator Spencer is running for reelection this year, and according to the experts has a hard fight on his hands. He is opposed by Buckner Bridge, Democrat.

Selden Palmer Spencer was born in Erie, Pa., in 1862. He graduated from Yale in 1884 and secured a law degree at Washington University two years later. He has since practiced law at St. Louis. He was a member of the Missouri house of representatives, 1896-98, and was judge of the Eighth judicial circuit of Missouri, 1907-1909.

 "Is he making money?"
 "He must be. I understand he eats regularly and buys himself a new pair of shoes occasionally. Any man who can do that must have an income."

Well, anyhow, the high cost of "living" has come down. It pays a laborer, unless you get a wife that way.

The Financial Code
 The institution of foreign exchange has been a considerable asset for foreign currency in the hands of certain Americans. The American factor of one bank who had stayed in France to "clean things up" had established a generous line of credit for him. Friend Simon began to hit things up rather hard, and in consequence his father received a cablegram reading: "Your son's account already overdrawn $40,000."

To which he cabled back to the bank: "If you mean dollars send him home. If you mean pounds, tell him not to be so careful. If you mean those funny things let him have all he wants."

A Time for Moderation
 "I believe in free speech," exclaimed the vociferous man.
 "So do I," rejoined Uncle Bill by elation. "So do I. But in no respect free speech reminds me of the free lunch in the old days. You have a free man making a pig of him—? Just because something's free."—Washington Star.

Next Thing to It
 At the conclusion of the school term prizes were distributed. When one of the pupils returned home his mother exclaimed to be entertaining others.
 "Well, Charles," asked one of these, "did you get a prize?"
 "Not exactly," said Charles. "I got a horrible mention."

The Combination
 "Why do musicians generally wear long hair?"

Returning Thanks
 "Sure," said Patrick, rubbing his head with delight at the prospect of a present. "I always came to do as duty."

"I believe you," replied the employer, "and therefore I shall make you a present of all you have stolen from us during the year."

"Thanks," replied Pat; "and may all your friends and acquaintances treat you as liberally."

REVOLUTION REPORTED IN MOSCOW Soviet - Polish Fighting Resumed

SIXTH RED DIVISION IS SMASHED

WARSAW, Oct. 15.—(By the Associated Press)—The smashing of the sixth Bolshevik division by the Poles in a resumption of fighting on the Russian-Polish line is reported in tonight's official war office statement. The Poles are extending their lines toward the boundary set by the armistice, which is shortly to become effective and have reached the town of Krzywiec (probably Krzywe), on the old Galician boundary south-east of Lemberg. The Russian regimental commanders have been taken prisoner by the Polish forces. ZURICH, Oct. 15.—According to an announcement of the German foreign ministry a great revolt is reported to have started in Moscow. The Kremlin there is declared to have been invaded.

DANIELS NAMES BOARD FOR HAITI PROBE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Secretary Daniels announced today that he had appointed a board of inquiry to make a thorough investigation of "all wrongs alleged to have been committed by United States Marines in Haiti," and particularly the reference to "indiscriminate killings." In this connection, General George Barnett's confidential letter of a year ago to Col. John H. Russell, marine commander in Haiti, is being referred to.

General Barnett, former commander of the marine corps, who left Washington for San Francisco yesterday, has been recalled to Washington. Secretary Daniels said, to appear before the board as a witness. "Punish Wranglers" The board, which is composed of Rear Admiral Henry T. Mayo and J. H. Oliver, and Brigadier General J. H. Franklin, of the marine corps, has been directed to "dig every bit of evidence" Mr. Daniels said to the end that "any man in American uniform guilty of wrong doing shall be brought to trial and punished."

MUCH TO BE DONE FOR HUMAN WELFARE AND SOCIAL PROGRESS, COX TELLS WOMEN

CLEVELAND, O., October 16.—A national women's congress to frame a program of social legislation and administration for presentation to the president and congress was advocated here today by Governor Cox, Democratic presidential candidate, in addressing an audience of women. The candidate's address preceded his political speech here and followed a morning of campaigning in which he spoke at Sandusky and Elmhurst, and here from Detroit. Governor Cox will remain over Sunday and tour northern New York on Monday.

Urging larger participation of women in national affairs and citing social legislation enacted during his gubernatorial administration, the governor told his women auditors at a non-partisan meeting at a local hotel that there was "much to be done for human welfare and social progress." He also championed the League of Nations as a measure to protect women and children from the horrors of war.

"From my experience in Ohio," said the governor, "you may know what to expect when I am elected president. There is much to be done for human welfare and social progress. We must stamp out disease, oppression and ignorance and eliminate neglect. With women only at the threshold of political work in America, I cannot call upon you for congressional action, but we can work in common purpose with common sense, and it would seem to me perfectly proper and fitting that a national meeting be called of representatives of every woman's organization in America to formulate a program for congress and the executive for social legislation and administration."

Governor Cox pledged his support to reforms contained in the San Francisco platform, including federal competition with the states for protecting infants and to remove illiteracy. In this connection he urged establishment of a federal bureau of Americanization to educate aliens. Regarding the bureau of education, Governor Cox said: "At present the federal bureau of education is burdened with a varied assortment of national business in the department of the interior. My opponent has spoken recently for a new department of public welfare under which to group certain social welfare activities. While I am in hearty accord with the idea of house cleaning our government departments and sorting out the human from the technical problems, I feel we should look forward to giving education and health equal consideration with labor, instead of lumping all social questions again in another grab bag, in the department."

In the last congress, Governor Cox charged, "a baby's bill" providing for maternity and infant care "waited in vain while reactionary leaders spent their time 'scrapping' the League of Nations."

"I am in favor of going into the league," he said, "not alone to keep your children from the terrible experience of war, but to enrich their lives by turning our national resources from battleships and armaments into school houses, play grounds, work for health, child hygiene and child happiness. Not to have given the right of suffrage to the women of America in this year when the greatest of all issues is before the people would have been a little short of a calamity. There is the greater suffering in war and there is the greater understanding of the lesson of the war. If we are to be deprived of world peace as a result of the action of our own country under leadership of a partisan conspiracy it is woman's right that her voice be heard. If the women of America may express their will I have no doubt of the result."

UNEMPLOYMENT CRISIS IMMINENT, SAYS HARDING

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 16.—As a result of the campaign and declaration of the League of Nations, Senator Harding renewed here his declaration of six weeks ago that it is organizing the sentiment of the world for peace in the Versailles League of Nations.

Speaking from his League speech of August 28, the Republican nominee pointed out that he declared on that occasion that the league might be "a Pandora's box" if its provisions were necessary to the peace of Europe. Besides the League of Nations, Senator Harding touched many of the issues of the campaign and declared it was the Republican party which now offered "a constructive and progressive program" to readjust American affairs. "Democracy," he declared, "is a waste and a vain extravagance" if it is not a vigorous assault on the administration by which he declared the nation was "being led to a second crisis of stagnation and unemployment." He predicted that the people would not permit any one to "write a third chapter of the Democratic Book of Destruction."

"HEARSE" SALOON FOUND BY OFFICIALS IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The first arrest in connection with the hunt for New York's alleged liquor "couch" came today, when two men were taken into custody on an automobile hearse carrying alcohol on a ferry boat to New Jersey. Six tightly sealed wooden boxes, each containing a five-gallon jug of grain alcohol, were found in the hearse. Ralph Sasso and Charles Rosen, when arrested, are said by federal agents to have confessed they were being paid for transporting the liquor, and for this particular job $20.

Prohibition enforcement agents asserted they had been hearing of a "hearse saloon" for sometime past in connection with the liquor "couch," but had had difficulty in finding it. Records were said to have shown that the hearse has been in use as a liquor and alcohol transport for a considerable period. Frank L. Boyd, chief enforcement agent here, said tonight, illicit white key buyers in New York were now getting colored water in many cases. Colored alcohol is put in one bottle of a case labelled whiskey, and colored water in the other bottles. Then after sampling the alcohol the entire case is readily sold, he said, only for the buyer to find the deceit when the second bottle is opened.

Harding To Speak Tonight In St. Louis

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Oct. 16.—Taking a short rest from the stress of his strenuous speaking campaign, Senator Harding spent last night at an Indianapolis hotel and slept late this morning before leaving for the final stretch of his trip. Departing from Indianapolis shortly before noon, his special train was to reach St. Louis at 7:15 p. m., after numerous short speeches in Indiana and Illinois. The final address of his swing around the circle of the border states and middle west will be delivered to a night meeting in the St. Louis auditorium.

"CRANK" REPUDIATES MURDER CONFESSION

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—August Pasquale, known as "The Crank," today repudiated his confession that he kidnapped Blakely Coughlin, snatched him accidentally and threw his body in the Schuylkill river, according to Montgomery county authorities. He is alleged to have said the confession was a "bit of bunk" and that he made it "just to give the state police something to work on."

Pasquale's latest statement was made to one of his guards at the Norristown jail. According to this guard, he would add nothing to the assertion that the confession was untrue. Adds Nothing to Repudiation Despite his repudiation, the police believe Pasquale's confession which was made to Major Lynn G. Adams, head of the state police, last Friday, and again yesterday in the form of a signed statement, is true. It was the only one of his many statements and confessions, they declared, that has in any way been substantiated. They called attention to the finding of a piece of steel nail with a string attached at the spot in the river where the prisoner said he threw the body of a man bearing out that part of his confession.

INCONSISTENCY IN LEAGUE STAND CHARGED BY COX

DETROIT, Oct. 16.—Governor Cox, of Ohio, Democratic presidential candidate, announced here tonight that his campaign would be fought square against the League of Nations issue as drawn by Senator Harding, his Republican opponent, in the latter's Detroit speech, in which the senator said that he favored "staying out."

The governor's announcement was made in a statement replying to that issued by 31 prominent Republicans, headed by Elihu Root, Herbert Hoover, Henry W. Taft and others, declaring their support of Senator Harding. That he did not see how the 31 signers could support Mr. Harding consistently was asserted by Governor Cox, here for an address at the Auditorium.

BRITAIN READY FOR BITTER LABOR FIGHT

LONDON, Oct. 16.—Preparations for the great industrial struggle precipitated by the decision of the British miners to cease work went grinding forward today. The machinery established by the government to cope with the crisis was working smoothly at full speed. The miners, for their part, were equally active. Some of them, notably in Derbyshire and Nottinghamshire, already had ceased work at the end of their shifts. Meanwhile the public was waiting anxiously, even fearfully, for the real beginning of the battle whose outcome none could foresee, since the action of the miners hits at the vitals of the country. The issue of greatest importance which was hatched in the balance was whether the railroad men and the transport workers would give their active support to the miners. This morning the executive committee of the National Union of Railwaymen decided to call a special conference of delegates for Wednesday next when they decided to whether the railway men shall support the miners through a sympathetic strike. Meanwhile the railway employees will remain at work. The National Federation of Transport Workers decided to indicate its support of the miners by a sympathy strike. The executive committee of the federation will meet Monday. Immediately after the strike, the federation will consider the question when the question may be considered. The executive committee of the As. work only. At the end of that time it is estimated there will be 8,000,000 tons of coal in the country. The National Federation of Transport Workers is meeting today, steel, iron engineering, colliery and other workers. Military leave has been Otherwise gains were losses among favorite issues were evenly distributed. Changes either up or down were confined to fractions. Speculatives, notably in wheat and food shares, improved on short covering. Exchange on London had around yesterday's low quotation, further selling of sterling bills perceptibly being prompted by the British coal strike situation.

Big Ten Teams Clash Today

BIG GAMES IN THE EAST

PENNY ANTE

Walking Home With The Winnings

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Football stepped into a real mid-season stride in the middle west today with every western conference eleven and teams from the more important colleges scheduled to play.

Eight of the Big Ten teams clashed with each other, while two met smaller teams. Standing out above all the other contests, however, were those between Iowa and Illinois at Urbana and Northwestern and Wisconsin at Madison. In other games, Indiana was pitted against Minnesota, Purdue faced Ohio State while Michigan played the Michigan Aggies and Chicago had a comparatively easy foe in Wabash.

The fracas at Urbana was the first conference game of the season for Illinois, last year's title winner, but the second for Iowa, which already owned a victory over Indiana. Iowa also had the advantage of another game and was expected to be in mid-season form.

Northwestern, fresh from the biggest football upset in the middle west in years—its 17 to 0 victory over Minnesota last week—was watched particularly in the game with Wisconsin to see if last Saturday's showing was merely a flash or an indication of championship strength. It was Wisconsin's first championship tilt of the season. The Indiana-Minnesota and the Purdue-Ohio State contests drew little more than cursory interest as Purdue and Indiana both already had been defeated by other conference teams.

The most important game in the middle west outside the conference was that between Nebraska and Notre Dame.

Indiana Vs. Minnesota

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 16.—Handicapped by the loss of halfback Oles, a veteran star, Minnesota's football eleven entered its contest today with Indiana an uncertain quantity. Its defeat by Northwestern a week ago added to the uncertainty. Indiana was reported in excellent condition.

Play In Wellston

The Nelsonville H. football team will play Wellston H. in the latter city today. Last week Nelsonville and Logan H. school teams staged a tie game, 0 to 0.

MATCH GAME TONIGHT

Tonight at 7:30 a picked team from the Selby Bowling League will play a match game with a five representing the Drew factory.

Paul Bauer will captain the Selby team and he has picked four bowlers who have been making the best scores so far this season. The Drews who do not have their own alleys to roll on tonight at a good team and expect to show the Selby five "some real bowling" tonight. The public is invited to witness the match game which will be rolled on the Selby alleys.

Selby's Bowling League

On the Selby Bowling League last night the Butchers "cut up" with the directors taking three straight from them. The second game was the closest of the three, the winners having a margin of only ten pins. Taylor, leader of the Butchers, rolled a 10, the high score of the evening, getting a total of 311. J. Adam Burkholder rolled the high individual score, topping the pins for 192 in his first game. The Butchers betting their averages last night all rolling better games than heretofore. The scores:

Butchers	1	2	3	Total
Taylor	158	150	163	471
W. N. Smith	147	129	149	425
Simpson	106	107	123	336
Frank	123	110	123	356
Wheeler	125	110	145	380
J. H. Hahn	105	115	121	341
Totals	620	511	711	2142

Directors:

D. C. Selby	1	2	3	Total
D. C. Selby	81	116	115	312
P. E. Schaefer	69	110	128	307
J. A. Burke	82	125	118	325
M. W. Selby	121	150	160	431
Totals	333	501	511	1345

The changes took two out of three from the Butchers, the latter carrying the second game. Bauer of the champions was in fact, form and finished last night.

PRO GRID TEAMS GATHER STARS FOR ANOTHER BIG YEAR

With the world's series written down in history, football now holds undisputed possession of the limelight. With the formation of the American Professional Football Association a short time ago professional football has been put on a much firmer basis and will branch out into new fields this year. Heretofore Ohio has had the bulk of the team. Now more western cities are getting into the sport. The Akron team, one of the pioneer outfits

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Several of the leading eastern inter-collegiate football teams today faced rivals they predicted to test for the first time this season, their real griffins.

This was particularly true of Yale meeting Boston College, which last year took the long end of a five to three score, and Pittsburgh opposing Syracuse. Syracuse won last year, 20 to 3.

Interest was also centered in the contest between Princeton and Washington and Lee.

Harvard meets the light Williams eleven and Pennsylvania tackles Lafayette. Pennsylvania last year defeated Lafayette 23 to 0.

Among the more important eastern games scheduled for today were: Boston College at Yale, Williams at Harvard, Lafayette at Pennsylvania, Colgate at Brown, Union at Cornell, Holy Cross at Dartmouth, West Virginia Wesleyan at Georgetown, Amherst at Columbia, North Carolina at Penn State, Dartmouth at Amherst, Springfield at West Point, Pittsburgh at Syracuse, Washington and Lee at Princeton, Virginia Poly at Rutgers.

OHIO GAMES

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 16.—Following are Ohio football schedules for this afternoon:

Ohio Wesleyan vs. Heidelberg at Delaware.

Oberlin vs. Mt. Union at Oberlin.

Ohio Northern vs. Oberlin at Ada.

Washington vs. Duquesne at Pittsburgh.

Murietta vs. Westminster at Murietta.

Western Reserve vs. Wooster at Wooster.

Case vs. Kenyon at Cleveland.

Miami vs. Kentucky at Oxford.

Wilkesburg vs. Hiram at Springfield.

Denton vs. Cincinnati at Cincinnati.

Ohio University vs. Marshall at Athens.

Akron vs. Baldwin Wallace at Akron.

Cadore Will Claim Bride

A month or so after the expiration of the world's series has died down and become baseball history, Leon J. Cadore, one of the Superlat pitchers, whose twirling made it possible for his team to be a participant in it, will take unto himself a wife. His bride will be Miss Helen Josephine Sweeney, 24, of Brooklyn. No definite date has been fixed. Mr. Sweeney says, but they plan to go on a honeymoon tour of the west that will not bring them back to Brooklyn until the pitcher is due for spring training.

Orioles Need Only One Game

ST. PAUL, Oct. 16.—Only one game separated the Baltimore Orioles from the minor league baseball championship when they met the St. Paul Association team in their sixth game of the post season series.

Baltimore, Champions of the International League has won four of the five games played, the Senators taking the final game, of the four contests at Baltimore. Today's game was postponed from yesterday on account of rain.

CATLETTSBURG ELEVEN HERE SUNDAY

Tomorrow afternoon on Millbrook Park diamond the N. and W. Smoke House eleven will clash with the best team from the vicinity of Catlettsburg, Ashland and Huntington. The team sailing under the name of Catlettsburg is composed of players from the three places, the best warriors from each place being placed on the team. The big game will start at 2:30 sharp and no doubt a big crowd will be on hand to witness the struggle. The Smoke House eleven has won two of the three games played this season while the visitors have won two.

Red Ford who played in the back field of a local eleven here several years ago is playing halfback for Catlettsburg. Others in the visitor's lineup are ex-college and high school stars who will give the N. and W. eleven a hard time.

"YOU DESERVED TO WIN," ROBINSON TELLS SPEAKER

Manager Robinson congratulating Manager Speaker after final game of world's series and play in seventh inning when O'Neill, after doubling, was run down on Corcoran's hit. Corcoran reaching second on the play. O'Neill is shown dodging between the Brooklyn players. Carey is just reaching second.

Among the thousands who congratulated Speaker, the Cleveland Indians' manager, after the final game of the world's championship was "Uncle" Hubbs, veteran manager of the defeated Dodgers.

"You deserved to win, sorry in the better team," said Robinson as he shook Speaker's hand. Steve O'Neill, the hitting star of the Indians, kept up his stick work up to the last. In the seventh inning of the final game he laced a double to left center, but died on Corcoran's hit, a minute later, being run down between second and third.

PERDUE VS. OHIO STATE TODAY

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 16.—Ohio State University football team will face its first trial test against Western Conference competition this afternoon when it meets Purdue University here on Ohio field. One of the western football world will be divided between this contest, the Northwestern-Wisconsin battle and the clash between Iowa and Illinois at Urbana.

Despite the fact that Purdue was defeated by Chicago last week the Boilermakers have a team that is feared and that probably will force the Buckeyes to the utmost. Purdue at many points in the game outplayed the Chicago team and Purdue can claim to one but itself for its defeat. Six of Chicago's punts were fumbled and in each case a Maroon player recovered the punts. Two of these were recovered by Chicago within the 15 yard line and both resulted in a touchdown. The other fumbles would have resulted in points if Chicago only had the services of a reliable place kicker.

Ohio State will be greatly handicapped by the lack of Williamson's services at fullback. Williamson, who recently pulled a ligament in his knee, has been released from the hospital this week, but will not be able to play until the Wisconsin game, Oct. 23, it is stated. Boig, half back, who sustained a fractured leg, playing under Ohio State's colors last week for the first time, undoubtedly will not be able to play any more this year.

Harry Hays, running mate of Ohio's Harley last year, has recovered from injuries received early in the season and will be in uniform in the game.

The Brunnells and the Horables helped themselves to the cranny, but didn't in their games with the Royals and Tramps. The Royals moved up to third place in the Masonic League standing by taking three in a row from the Royals at the Pennant alleys, while the Horables won two out of three from the Tramps at the Play House alleys.

There were but three games reported in last evening. Captain Steel don of the Brunells, led with 324, with Raymond D. York of the Tramps, with 312 and Frank Dwyer of the Brunells, with 302.
